1. About the Report

Our hotel is committed to fulfilling the obligations of the Turkish Sustainable Tourism Program regarding sustainability and to continuously improving its sustainable management system to enhance sustainability performance. Due to the state of the sector, environmental, social, technological, economic and cultural risks, and legislative changes and updates, our management system is constantly reviewed, and policies are updated as necessary.

“Our sustainability policies” represent our company’s commitment to this issue. Our aim is to adopt the principle of sustainability in fundamental areas of our hotel and to incorporate it into our corporate memory.

Our efforts can only translate into success and sustainability by working together with our employees, guests, business partners, suppliers, solution partners, and all stakeholders in our immediate environment, expanding and strengthening this partnership day by day.

Raising awareness among employees, providing them with opportunities to participate in the process, and enabling them to contribute to development opportunities are considered an integral part of the sustainability approach. In this context, our annual training plans and orientations include training topics such as social rights, supporting local employment, protecting natural life, supporting wildlife, historical and touristic sites of the surrounding area, cultural richness, ecological diversity, energy and water conservation, environmental activities - our recycling system, and focusing on local resources. We work to disseminate the philosophy of sustainability within the company.

Sustainability efforts are coordinated by Hotel Management, and our activities and performance in this area are always open to the expectations and opinions of our stakeholders.

We started our sustainability efforts in 2024. Our aim is to share the progress we have made in this area with our management, employees, guests, suppliers, and all other partners, thereby increasing awareness and transforming it into shared goals and achievements.

12. CONSERVATION OF BIODIVERSITY

BIODIVERSITY CONSERVATION POLICY

Biodiversity conservation is among the priority areas within the sustainability policy. By identifying and monitoring the impact of its activities on biodiversity, it aims to protect the diversity of species, habitats, ecosystems, and the integrity of ecological functions.

The majority of the impacts on biodiversity occur in the early stages of the supply chain, during raw material procurement operations (such as traditional cotton production, which uses agricultural chemicals like fertilizers and pesticides, as well as large amounts of water). Air, soil, and water pollution resulting from production and operational phases also have a negative impact on biodiversity.

Identifying and minimizing these impacts, achieving a more responsible supply chain, and reducing demand on natural resources and ecosystems, the company prioritizes resource efficiency and minimal waste generation in its operations.

- We identify and monitor the potential direct and indirect impacts of our operations and supply chain activities on biodiversity.
- In our operations, we avoid materials that pose risks to endangered species, animal welfare, and forests.
- We include ensuring the sustainability of natural resources in our goals and develop projects in this direction. We engage in activities focused on biodiversity conservation with NGOs and local governments.
- To raise awareness about the importance and conservation of biodiversity, we organize in-house training and internal communication activities, and we include this topic in our sustainability training programs.
- We share our biodiversity performance annually in our Sustainability Report.

- We take actions to create and monitor a biodiversity inventory of the region and to ensure the protection of endemic species.
- We take action to support and develop agricultural activities, which are the livelihood of the local people.

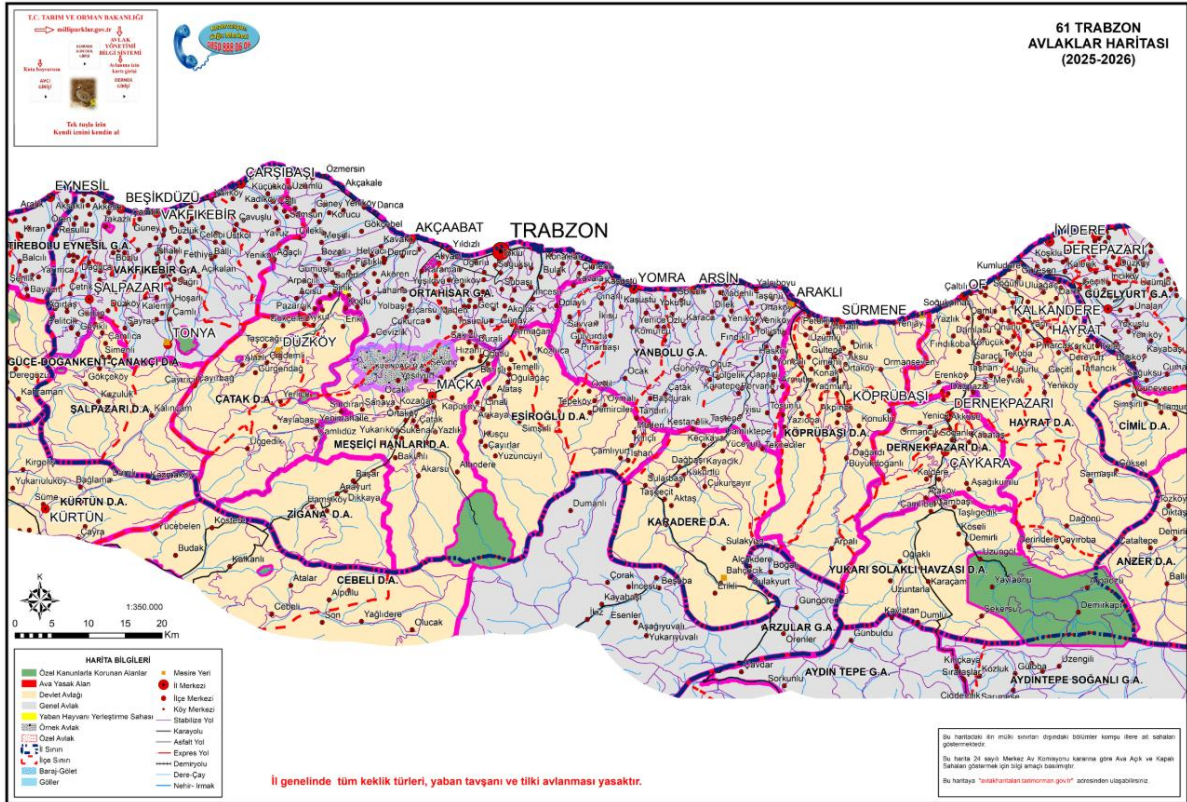

13. WILDLIFE AND HUNTING

WILDLIFE INTERACTION POLICY

Since the day we opened, we have continued to protect animal rights and all artifacts belonging to our historical and modern culture.

In accordance with the Animal Rights Protection Law and the Regulation on the Protection of Wild Animals and Their Habitats and the Procedures and Principles for Combating Pests, we would like to emphasize that keeping wild animals in establishments is prohibited and that we will not support such requests and/or commercial approaches. We strongly remind you that no wild animals should be kept within our facilities; therefore, any requests from potential guests will be unconditionally rejected and reported to the relevant authorities.

As a matter of policy, our facility is committed to protecting animals and our culture, and we kindly request that the necessary measures be taken to ensure that the boundaries of our respect for wildlife and natural life are not exceeded.

Men should cover their shoulders and legs and should wear trousers during their visit.

BUSES AND TRANSPORTATION VEHICLES

Buses and trams are public transportation vehicles used to travel from one place to another for a fee. A transportation card can be purchased to board public buses and trams. Passengers board public transportation vehicles through the front door and alight through the back door.

SHOOTINGS and PHOTOGRAPHY

In general, you can take photos everywhere. If someone doesn't want to be photographed, that should be taken into consideration. Photography and video recording are prohibited in police and military facilities.

MUSEUMS AND OPENING HOURS

Museums across Turkey are closed on Mondays. Generally, they are open from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Some close for lunch between 12:00 PM and 1:30 PM. Open-air ancient archaeological museums can be visited from 9:00 AM until sunset.

CIRCUSES AND SHOWS

To prevent animal abuse, please do not attend animal shows and circuses. No living creature should be taken from its natural habitat and used for entertainment purposes, nor can it find happiness in this.

ANTIQUUE

The export of all kinds of antiques is prohibited. Enforcement of this ban is carefully monitored. Even small pieces of glass are severely punished. Attention must be paid. Exporting antiques, old coins, fossils (including seashells), natural stones, etc., is prohibited by law. Ignoring this will result in imprisonment and fines.

This penalty applies to all discovered and, in a broader sense, all cultural objects.

Thank you for your sensitivity towards historical artifacts and museums.

We would also like to remind you that visiting the museums and historical sites in our country will contribute to our historical and cultural heritage.

15. RULES TO BE FOLLOWED IN CULTURAL AND NATURAL AREAS

- Nature tours are organized events aimed at exploring, seeing, getting to know, and promoting all the natural areas of our country; therefore, all event organizers must obtain permission from the authorities to ensure the sustainability, effective management and protection of resources, visitor safety, visitor guidance, and meeting visitor needs and expectations.

- Before the tour, "rules to be followed in nature" are distributed to participants/visitors by the organizers, and compliance with these rules is ensured.
- Within protected areas, rare, endemic, endangered, or potentially endangered native plant species cannot be harmed in any way. These species cannot be collected, uprooted, or have parts of them cut off; the eggs of wild animals cannot be collected, and their nests cannot be disturbed.
- Tours are not permitted in areas where endangered species are strictly protected, or in regions and locations where entry is prohibited for general safety reasons.
- Activities that could harm birds are prohibited during tours (individuals cannot be disturbed, nests and chicks cannot be touched, and tissue and blood samples cannot be taken under any circumstances). Bird watching and photography are not permitted during bird breeding seasons.
- Professional photography and film shoots cannot be carried out without obtaining the necessary permits from the Ministry.
- Travel agencies that organize hunting tours, photography and film shoots, and wildlife observation tours for foreign visitors in Turkey must obtain a hunting tourism license from the Ministry.
- Wild animals seen or encountered during tours should not be startled or chased. If the tour route is in the direction the animal is seen, a suitable amount of time is waited, and the tour continues more slowly, taking care not to approach the animal too closely to startle or disturb it.
- For visitor safety, the Administration will issue the necessary warnings, and other necessary precautions will be taken by the organizers of the event.
- Regardless of the method, visitors are required to take their litter with them.
- Making noise and listening to loud music are prohibited during the tours.
- No activities that pollute the areas, damage the flora, or disturb the fauna are permitted.
- No fires may be lit in the areas.
- Wildlife cannot be destroyed.
- Any interventions that cause or may cause the loss or alteration of the characteristics of protected areas, as well as any works or activities that cause soil, water, and air pollution and similar environmental problems, are prohibited.
- In protected areas, visitors are required to visit the site accompanied by a certified "Site Guide". However, day-use areas and areas outside the absolute protection zone defined in the plan can be visited within the framework of the defined rules.
- In areas requiring absolute protection and in absolute protection zones included in the plans, natural resources are expected to be left in their natural state without human influence; therefore, the use of these areas without the knowledge of the administration and the unauthorized movement of visitors in the area are strictly prohibited.

- In protected areas, visitors are not allowed to go outside the designated areas and routes (this is important both for the preservation of natural resources and for visitor safety).
- The conditions and level of use and utilization of the areas are determined by the Administration, and the carrying capacity cannot be exceeded.
- No activities that would affect the water regime are permitted in wetlands.
- No foreign species may be introduced or released into wetlands, or collected from wetlands, for any purpose whatsoever.

16. RULES OF CONDUCT TOWARDS CHILDREN

1. As defined in both international law and Turkish legislation, any person under the age of 18 is a child.
2. Children's rights is a universal concept used to define all the rights that all children in the world possess from birth, legally or morally, including rights such as education, health, housing, and protection against physical, psychological, or sexual exploitation.
3. According to the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, to which Turkey is also a party, non-discrimination; the best interests of the child; the right to life, survival and development; participation and respect for the child's views are fundamental principles and serve as a guide in the implementation of all other rights.
4. Almost every business and employee in the tourism and travel sector interacts with children directly or indirectly. Tourism and travel businesses need to have sufficient knowledge and capacity regarding children's rights, both to provide the best possible service to their guests and to legally employ interns under the age of 18. They must offer their services in a way that protects and does not violate children's rights.
5. Sustainable tourism is an approach that meets the needs of travelers, the industry, and the nature and society of the host country, while also considering the current and future economic, social, and ecological impacts of the tourism sector.
6. Emerging within the framework of sustainable tourism, "Child-Friendly Tourism" is a tourism concept that aims to create tourist environments where children can be healthy, play, learn, and feel safe, free from all forms of violence.
7. The most important criteria in implementing child-friendly tourism:
 - Taking measures to ensure the health, hygiene and safety of children in tourism facilities and travel vehicles.
 - To provide services and activities aimed at the healthy development of children.
 - Protecting children's rights in the field of tourism employment.
 - Protecting children from violence and sexual exploitation in tourism.
 - To inform staff and customers about child-friendly tourism,
 - The goal is to develop child-centered social and environmental awareness.
